

MIKE MOVIUS

Michael "Mike" Movius is a retired entrepreneur, executive and organization development consultant. Mike graduated from the University of Washington in 1971 with a BA in political science and The Evergreen State College in 1983 with a Master of Public Administration.

He worked for Burlington Northern, Inc.; Washington State government (Washington State Patrol, the Office of Financial Management and the Department of Trade & Economic Development); C&M Technology, Inc.; Library Materials Expeditors; and the Federal Home Loan Bank of Seattle. While serving on the Washington State Patrol SWAT team he received the Award of Honor, recognizing an outstanding act of valor. He retired in 2008.

Mike is an Eagle Scout, Life member of the National Eagle Scout Association and 2015 recipient of the Outstanding Eagle Scout Award. He chairs the Awards and Recognition committee of the national Scouting Alumni Association. He is also the Executive Vice President of the Pacific Harbors Council. Most recently, he will serve on staff at the 2017 BSA National Jamboree.

Mike is a recruiter and active staff member of Evergreen Boys State. He serves as senior city staff and teaches court operations in Evergreen Boys State University. He administers the EBS bar examination and manages the superior and supreme courts. He is the Chairman of the Evergreen Boys State Alumni Association.

Mike became interested in the Civil War as a youth after reading a book illustrated by photos by Mathew Brady. Since then, Mike has toured many battlegrounds and historical sites. He joined the Puget Sound Civil War Roundtable in 2008. He has sought to improve the outreach of his CWRT through community partnerships and marketing. He is president of the Puget Sound Civil War Roundtable. He is a member of the Civil War Trust and the Lincoln Forum.

He and his wife Denise reside in Olympia and have two sons, Steven and Kelsey